

Mothers Circle Gives Aid To Torrance De Molays

Organized before World War II, the DeMolay Mothers group of Torrance is primarily interested in furthering the good being done by the Torrance Chapter of DeMolay.

Young men between the ages of 14 and 21 are eligible to join the DeMolay youth group and under the direction of Gilbert Roxy, familiarly known as the Dad of DeMolay, youths are inspired to adhere to rules of good living, to respect their parents, and to love and honor their country. At the age of 21, each young man automatically retires from this group but may apply for membership in the local Masonic order.

make the installation robes for their sons and the special robes required when the young men earn new and higher degrees. At Christmastime, the group packs baskets of food and toys for some destitute family.

Mrs. Samuel Abramson is the 1953 president of the DeMolay Mothers group. Her son, Fred Abramson, is president of the DeMolay Torrance Chapter. Mrs. Frank Schmidt is first vice-president and Mrs. William Schell, second vice-president. Luana Collins is treasurer. Mrs. J. C. Milton is publicity chairman; Mrs. Lura Bloomfield serves as chaplain, and Mrs. Jane Stamper is ways and means chairman.

Women Aid Moose Lodge In Philanthropic Work

The Loyal Order of the Moose boasts some 1200 chapters in the United States and Canada, and as an auxiliary, the Women of the Moose was organized in 1913. Twenty-nine members were granted a charter in Torrance in 1935.

The Moose Fraternity is particularly interested in maintaining Child City at Mooseheart, Ill. and Moosehaven at Orange Park, Fla. Orphans of members and children of departed Moose fathers are given a home and an education until they reach the age of 18 years. If need arises, mothers of these children are given employment near by so they can watch the development of their little ones. Scholarships are awarded each year and many graduates go on to higher learning. A new high school is now being built at Child City with funds provided by all lodges and chapters.

The House of God, dedicated in 1950, provides a varied religious background giving each child opportunity to carry on in the faith of his father, whether he be Protestant, Jew or Catholic.

The aged of the Moose order are not forgotten, for at Moosehaven they find a haven of peace and contentment in their closing years.

Torrance Chapter this year celebrated its 18th year with a dinner Aug. 26 which five of the charter members and many co-workers, their families, and friends attended. Monthly dinners have been held jointly with the Brothers of Lodge 785. A both was arranged for the street dance Aug. 28 and a penny social and dance was held on Sept. 19. The bazaar, to be held on Nov. 14th is an annual affair. Meetings are held every Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the Moose Hall, 1744 West Carson Avenue.

Alice Swanson is senior regent of Women of the Moose this year. Vickie Stiles held the same office last year. Lucilla Johnson is junior regent; Joyce Clay, chaplain; Melva Hutchinson, recorder; Cordie White treasurer; Leona Shiffer, guide; Eleanor Fritz, assistant guide; Gay Romersheuser, Argus; Velma Scanlon, sentinel; Ethel St. Germain, pianist.

The goals of the Women of the Moose are reached through the activities of the Chapter Development Committees and the New Horizon program. Committee chairmen are the following:

Gladys Griep, homemaking; Virginia Jenkins, ritual; Martha Jones, social service; Nellie Smith, Mooseheart alumni; Patricia Eshom, publicity; Polly Marshall, child care; Patricia Leone, hospital; Peggy Robin, membership; Dolores Olson, Mooseheart; Lucille Meyer, Moosehaven; and Marguerite Baudin, library.

Special committees are headed by Ila Mae Ambach, College of Regents; Martha Evans, friendship; Marie Bankston, auditing; Lillian Nelson, hospitality; Cora Hill, entertainment, and Vickie Stiles, ways and means.

Nativity Moms Give Service To School and Community

The Rev. Patrick J. McGuinness, founder of Nativity Catholic School, organized the Nativity Mothers Club in 1948. Now celebrating its fifth year, the group plans various service projects, including numerous activities with both educational and entertainment aims for the children and teaching staff of the school.

Also extending its services to the whole community, the club takes an active part each year in the Community Chest campaign, and reciprocates the generous services of the Torrance Health Center staff by cooperating with its special programs, particularly during Health Week.

U.S.O.; Boy and Girl Scouts; drives for polio, Christmas and Easter seals sales. Most recently, joining with the Chamber of Commerce in observing Safety Week, a committee of active mothers under the leadership of Mrs. J. Powers helped on traffic problems at the school. Mrs. Ivan G. Colton, this year's president, states that she wishes to make appreciative recognition of the willing public always afforded by the Torrance Herald regarding the club's accomplishments. "For a greater Torrance," she says, "The Nativity Mother Club wishes always to have happy relations with other city schools and is proud to stand ready with progressive citizens to promote better understanding, good fellowship and a true meaning of service to God and country."

Those who have served on the club's board of officers include the following:

1948-49—Mesdames M. Morin, president; E. Zienke, vice-president; J. Donald, secretary; L. Felker, treasurer; and S. Webb, health officer.
1949-50—Mesdames R. Kelly, president; E. Richmond, vice-president; G. Duchring, secretary; T. Herrin, treasurer; Felker, health officer.
1951-52—Mesdames E. Cook, president; D. Davis, vice-president; M. Stelich, secretary; F. Dalton, treasurer; and Felker, health officer.
Mrs. Felker continues to serve as health officer this year. Other leaders assisting President Mrs. Colton are Mesdames Powers, vice-president; T. Eager, secretary; and E. Schultz, treasurer.

Honor Dead by Caring for Living VFW Ladies' Motto

One year after Torrance Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 3251 was instituted, 24 ladies formed the Auxiliary, with Claire Darling as charter president. The Auxiliary motto is "Honor the dead by caring for the living." Throughout the past 12 years the Auxiliary has been active in hospital work which includes an adopted ward at the hospital serviced once a month with candy, cigarettes, gum, books and other gifts for about 35 patients. Members also sew for orphans of servicemen. Members also care for servicemen's families locally when in need of clothing, rent, or food. At Christmas-time, baskets are donated to the needy and gift boxes are taken to the hospitals. The Auxiliary also provides the American flags for such organizations as the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the Cub Scouts, and other organizations.

Past presidents still active in the Auxiliary are Anne Warburton and Mabel Moore, who also is past president of Fourth District, The Fourth District covers 38 South area Auxiliaries. Other past presidents are Mary Towler, Frankie Brown, Beatrice Vaca, and Elizabeth Allen. Annie Jeffries is now president.

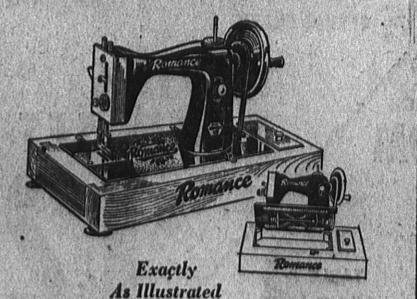

Wives, mothers, widows, sisters or daughters of servicemen who have done overseas duty are eligible to belong to the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary.
